

BRITISH HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS FROM A MOTOR-CAR

THOMAS D. MURPHY

LibriVox

THOMAS D. MURPHY

BRITISH HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS FROM A MOTOR-CAR

BRITISH HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS FROM A MOTOR-CAR

BRITISH HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS FROM A MOTOR-CAR

THOMAS D. MURPHY

In this chronicle of a summer's motoring in Britain I have not attempted a guide-book in any sense, yet the maps, together with the comments on highways, towns, and country, should be of some value even in that capacity. I hope, however, that the book, with its many illustrations and its record of visits to out-of-the way places, may be acceptable to those who may desire to tour Britain by rail or cycle as well as by motor car. Nor may it be entirely uninteresting to those who may not expect to visit the country in person but desire to learn more of it and its people. (Introduction by Thomas Dowler Murphy)

- 01 - A Few Generalities – 00:11:51
- 02 - In and About London – 00:18:04
- 03 - A Pilgrimage to Canterbury – 00:16:54
- 04 - A Run Through the Midlands – 00:21:19
- 05 - The Border Towns, Shrewsbury and Ludlow – 00:26:27
- 06 - London to Land's End – 00:24:35
- 07 - From Cornwall to South Wales – 00:18:10
- 08 - Through Beautiful Wales – 00:26:05
- 09 - Chester to the 'Hielands' – 00:22:03
- 10 - Through Historic Scotland – 00:20:40
- 11 - From Edinburgh to Yorkshire – 00:20:03
- 12 - In Old Yorkshire – 00:18:27
- 13 - A Zig-Zag Trip from York to Norwich – 00:17:04
- 14 - Peterborough, Fotheringhay, Etc – 00:16:08
- 15 - The Cromwell Country; Colchester – 00:13:03
- 16 - The Haunts of Milton and Penn – 00:15:03
- 17 - A Chapter of Divers Places and Experiences – 00:17:24
- 18 - In Surrey and Sussex – 00:17:24
- 19 - Knole House and Penshurst – 00:10:15
- 20 - Some Might-Have-Beens – 00:13:16

Total running time: 6:04:15

Read by Christine Blachford